

During this time of uncertainty, I am writing to reassure you that the Diabetes Foundation continues to be available to provide support to children and adults who are insured, uninsured or in transition who need our help to manage their diabetes care.

I have posted a press release, that outlines our current activities and services that are available to you, your family, friends, colleagues and neighbors living with diabetes. As having diabetes may increase vulnerability to more serious complications from the coronavirus, we are providing a variety of additional tools and services to assist with managing care. As well as our Backup Emergency Supply Kit(s) you may be interested in our:

- Medication Assistance Program: Our short-term Medication Assistance program offering a free, short-term supply of insulin to children and adults in financial need.
- Resource Advocacy Program: Our advocates are available to take calls about coupons, medication delivery, prescription assistance programs and more to help those living with all types of diabetes to be stocked with the supplies they need at home.
- Diabetes Foundation Online Resources: Our online database has searchable resources to help manage diabetes care, as well as pertinent updates on the pandemic.

The increased number of calls and applications that Diabetes Foundation has been receiving underscores the urgent demand from the community to get the care they need during this critical time.
